Book Purchases Begin June 2

Associated Students representatives announced today that Dave Brown would assume the management of the student book store operations begin this June. Brown, known to students and faculty, for his work with the college at the Santa Ana Book Store, will work on a part-time basis handling the purchasing of used and new books and building up the book store facilities. The first official act of the new book store will be the purchase of old texts from the students, commencing June 2, second hand books will be redeemed at 50 per cent of their value. The bookstore will be located in the latest northeast wing of the Student Center adjacent to the business managers office. Remodeling is tentatively scheduled to begin within two weeks at an estimated cost of $100. A cash register and other equipment will be purchased with associated Student funds for the year as the need arises. Dr. Lester Beals, Dean of Men, said, "The store will start off with regular texts and school supplies and gradually work into so call "sundry items."

Opposition Wins Two Positions

The Associated Students of Santa Ana College will be represented by Allyn "Bud" Miller in the top level, presidents billet during fall semester of 1958-59. When the smoke finally cleared away from the polls Friday, Miller, and all but two of his slate were firmly entrenched in the executive board positions. President-elect Miller stated today, "Winners and loser alike have signified a willingness to work together in the coming semester for the best interests of the student body." "I feel quite confident that the year to come will be highpoint in SAC history. If the enthusiasm and hard work that went into the campaign is duplicated and channeled towards good government for the Associated Students it will certainly be an exceptionally good year.

Thanks to A. S.

"I want to thank the Associated Students for making the record turnout at the polls possible by their interest and cooperation." Opposition leader Earle Truax, in congratulating Miller on his victory, said, "I assure you that I will continue to help in any way that I can whenever I'm called upon." "I think I may speak for any member of my slate in the same regard."

Wide Representation

Miller, running on a platform calling for thorough representation of all campus factions, will commence his term of office in advance of the fall semester. "A great deal of planning and correspondence goes on during the summer," stated Miller. "We will actually never stop working on some phase of the next semesters activities."

Burns Hovey, vice-presidential running mate with Miller, assumes the duties of Chairman of the Inter Club Council as port of his "veep" duties.

Participation Stressed

Hovey plans to "... direct my entire effort towards building a bigger and better Santa Ana College by working with, and through, the I.C.C. to attain the maximum in group and individual participation in all college activities — social, cultural, and academic."

MONEY HANDLERS NEAR BUDGET DEADLINE DATE

Budget committee head Roger Woods stated at Tuesday's board meeting that nearly one-fourth of the budget requests for next years allocations had not been submitted to the committee.

"Activities that do not submit their budgets by Thursday will automatically receive the same amount allotted to them last year," stated Woods. "We want to submit a recommended budget to the board this Tuesday." Commissioner of Special Student Activities, Gonzalo Garcia, announced that the parking committee will meet for the last time Tuesday, May 27. Anyone wishing to protest a parking ticket must appear at this time. All those holding unpaid tickets after this meeting will have to pay them or will not receive their grades.

In keeping with the policy in force for cafeteria employees the executive board voted ten days of sick leave each year for the Associated Students snack bar manager.

The snack bar manager is employed by the Associated Students and any decisions affecting salary or welfare must be made by the Associated Students executive board.

The program will include an assembly to introduce faculty members and the executive board. Functions of the student body officers will be explained and a question period offered.

ATHENS, Greece — Cypriot leader Archbishop Makarios, a bitter critic of the British government, said today he had been invited to attend a conference of churchmen in Britain but had postponed a decision on attending. The Nationalist leader of the Greek majority on Cyprus has not been in Britain for many years. Informed sources said Makarios' acceptance probably will be contingent on the British plan for settlement of the Cyprus question.

KUALA, Lumpur — Motorcyclist Khoo Yew Haut related today how a full-grown tiger jumped at him as he drove through the Templer Park area. Khoo, who was carrying a passenger, said they saw something crouching by the road and suddenly recognized it as a tiger when they were 10 yards away. He said the lights apparently stunned the animal, but it roared and leaped just as the cycle passed.

VIENNA — Communist Hungary will build a nuclear power station "with Soviet support" in the near future. Hungarian newspapers said Arpad Kiss, head of the Hungarian planning mission, has returned from Moscow after talks with Soviet authorities. No details of the projected station were given.

EDITORIAL

I am, to put it mildly, amazed!

With all the hoopla about education and the bright future of those young people who will receive the "enriched" program enabling them to keep working near capacity, I thought a school board election would rate quite a turnout.

I was, to put it mildly, dead wrong.

In one of our neighboring communities with a population in excess of 65,000, with voters numbering over 20,500 only 3269 people cast their ballots for school district candidates last week.

This election may well be some sort of a record for the poorest showing on one of the most important issues on which we exercise our voting franchise.

The tail has been wagging the dog for so long that people lose sight of the fact that poor educational practices are a cumulative error.

If Johnny gets inferior training now he becomes an inferior person as an adult. If he is an inferior adult he can only operate within an inferior frame of experience. When he is called upon to make community decisions he in turn will help perpetuate and breed an even more inferior type to carry on in his place.

When public office holders do not feel the eyes of the public, the voter, on them there is a tendency to relax and either do things in the most expedient fashion or become so used to doing things their own way they automatically assume that it's the right way and not subject to public scrutiny or criticism.

The man who said "The price of Liberty is eternal vigilance" is really the prophet of the age.

Liberty has its core in education and it cannot be practiced on our present scale by the ignorant or the uninformed.

'Women People Too' States Dean Miller

By Maxine Harris

Are women losing their femininity? Ever since women suffragettes made their bid for equality, the characteristics that typify women have been changing until in many parts of our society men and women are considered equal.

During the twentieth century women have gone beyond the doors of the home toward greater participation in "a man's world." The home no longer demands the undivided attention of the modern woman and she is free to have her career and her home too.

Revert to Past?

Some members of both sexes still would like to revert to the good old days when the women's home was her domain and the man ruled the rest of the world. Other opinions insist that man has been too slow in ceding all of the privileges of first-class citizenship, and that woman has been reluctant to accept them.

In college, more than other phases of society, women compete against men for grades and recognition, yet do they lose their respective roles in mankind for the sake of competition?

The Trouble With Women

According to Eleanor Metheny and James A. Peterson, co-authors of "The Trouble With Women," there are no "woman's problems" or "men's problems" which can be identified in the present social structure. There are only "people's problems" which must be worked out on a mutual basis.

In a recent comment on the subject, Miss Agness Todd Miller, dean of women, stated, "Women are people too — and I don't think that they are growing any less womanly."

In her reaction to Phillip Ward Burton's recent article in This Week magazine, "Keep Women Out of College," Miss Miller said that both sexes should be allowed to compete on an equal basis, with the main emphasis placed on their capacity and will to learn.

Fact Overlooked

When Mr. Burton came out with his article, he may have overlooked the fact that women have to keep both a career and marriage in mind throughout their education. Men have a reasonably certain pattern of life for which to prepare themselves; women don't know where life will lead them.

With the home requiring less and less of a housewife's time, it is possible for a woman to combine both career and marriage in a successful venture. Because of this, Miss Miller advises a broad liberal education for women which will prepare them for either phase of life, or both.

'SPANISH NOT EASIEST OF LANGUAGES,' SAYS RUIZ

"I don't know where some people get the idea that Spanish is easier than other languages; no language is easy." The above statement was made by Mrs. Carol Ruiz, Santa Ana College Spanish teacher. The petite senora continued, "The student of today, although I've only been here four years, has a little more enthusiasm for both academic and other activities of the school."

The past election, which was a stimulating experience for the faculty let alone the student body, showed the initiative of today's college students.

Mrs. Ruiz received her degrees from Ohio State University, has studied French, Italian and Portuguese to the point where she can read it, "but I haven't mastered English that well yet!" she added jokingly.

"Now how can I ham this up," she replied to the question of her various hobbies, "Oh yes, I paint and play the 'pie-anno'."

In the dim, imprecipitable future as Mrs. Ruiz put it, she intends to visit the country she teaches about day after day, Spain.

Mrs. Ruiz ended the interview by stating, "The junior college is a wonderful opportunity for anyone, and cannot be substituted in any way. It is also in no way inferior to the first two years of any four year institution in the country."

El Don Is Only Newspaper In E. C. Free From Board

During the newspaper workshops at two of this semester's student government conferences held at Fullerton JC and San Diego College, the question was raised concerning whether the editor of the school paper should be a member of the student governing body by virtue of his position. At the Fullerton conference it was discovered that El Don was the only newspaper of the junior colleges in the Eastern Conference which is not represented in its governing body.

At the San Diego meet, it was learned that El Don was even more in the minority, with some schools having more than one seat on the executive board.

Editors of El Don have never had a seat with the governing body, and according to present editor John Brady, "I'm glad the paper is not required to have a vote on the executive board."

Free To Differ

"This way the paper is free to differ with decisions of the board if the editor deems it necessary, rather than being obligated by membership to advocate readers' approval of action by the board."

A similar situation occurred in Johns-Hopkins University where the student council recently voted, over the strenuous protests of their own newspaper's editors, to have the paper represented in the governing group.

Editor Speaks

Editor of their News-Letter, Mal Baroway, stated: "We feel it is our job to present objective criticism, and it is well-known that the council has often been the object of such criticism . . ."

"There will be many cases in which the editors (who will be council members under the new plan) will not see eye to eye with council decision."

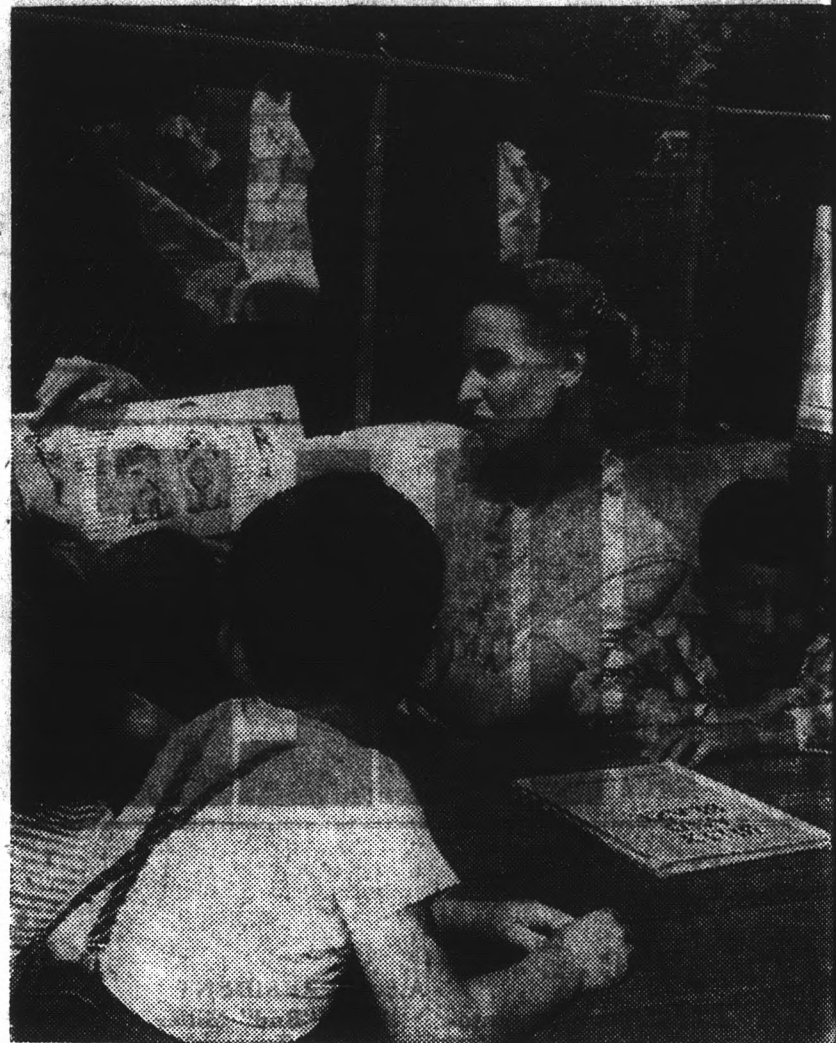

"In the past such occasions would render editorial comment. But when the editor has to criticize in black and white the decisions of his own group, that is a different story . . ."

To Reach Students

Johns-Hopkins Student Council supporters of the new plan say that "by asking the editors to join the council we can better reach the students."

"Now the council and the newspaper seem to be pulling in opposite directions . . . The principal reason in wishing to make the editor a member is to compel him to attend meetings."

Such an example of poor newspaper attendance is the case at SAC, according to Brady. "Decisions and action of the board have been well covered and surely treated by El Don. There is no cause for an argument of that sort on this campus."

Children's Literature Class Tests New Books on Children

Using children in the campus child development center as well as their own children, families or neighbors testing material, the members of the children's literature class taught by Miss Lota Blythe of the English faculty has been studying books and stories for the younger students.

The class consists mainly of pre-teaching majors with a few mothers who co-ordinate their work in the development center with their class work. It was instituted originally by Miss Blythe for parents as an aid in rearing their children.

Recent projects include reports by students on children's books in religious, animal and fantasy fields with special information brought in about authors in those divisions. The books and stories are tried out on children of varying ages to learn their effects and the reactions.

Various authors and prominent people in the field of children's art have spoken to the class throughout the course. Mrs. Janice Udry, author of "A Tree Is Nice," which won the Caldecott Medal for its artwork, spoke to them last semester.

The next speaker in the class is to be Miss Polly Gratner, head of the art division in Santa Ana City Schools, who will visit the class Monday. She will speak on children's art for the various ages.

Other special speakers have been Mrs. Francella Goddard, librarian in the Junior Library, and Mrs. Leona Calkins of the Lathrop library.

Next year the course will be given during the second semester and will cover books for children of all ages.

Open to pre-teaching majors and parents, it will be possible to take the course for either two or three units with optional service in the child development lab.

"Red" Guyer, in 1927 to '29 was one of California's fastest sprinters and after graduating from Santa Ana College ran for the Southern California Trojans under Jess Mortensen. At present he is teaching and coaching at Laguna Beach High School where he has produced some of the better track men in the county.

Tickets are available from the coaches or they may be purchased in the Community Relations office from John "Sky" Dunlap in B-2.

Clark Against Scandinavia?
Monday afternoon I received a phone call from Syd Kronenthal, the secretary for the Southern Pacific Athletic Association in the Long Distance Running Department. The call pertained to the whereabouts of Charley Clark. Syd wanted to know if Clark would be interested in running the road races this summer in preparation for the meet scheduled against the Scandinavian squad next September.

Kronenthal stated, "Clark is one of the top candidates in California to be chosen for one of the longer distances, and I would appreciate it if you would have Clark drop us a line."

After I relayed the message to Clark he assured me that he was interested and is going to start working out for the long distance road races as soon as the cinder season is over this week end.

Metzinger Wins WAA Elections

Marilyn Metzinger again makes headlines after her victory, May 10, during the All Southern California Junior College Tennis Tournament held at Long Beach, sponsored by Pierce Junior College.

MARILYN METZINGER

Last week the Donas held elections for W.A.A. officers for the Fall semester and once again Marilyn Metzinger emerged as victor when she was elected to the office of W.A.A. Wednesday night the women of the W.A.A. cast their ballots for the outstanding player, most improved player, outstanding service and in the tennis department the most improved and valuable player. These awards were announced last night during the annual women's sports night held at the Revere House, sponsored by the W.A.A. and A.W.S.

Receiving the award for outstanding service was a tie between ex-W.A.A. presidents, Pat Morris and Maudine Ross. For the most improved player in team sports, Tillie Valdivia took the honors with Elaine Bradley winning the outstanding player of the year award. Tennis awards went to Celia Dominguez for outstanding performance, and to Sally Van Patten as being most improved player.

SEVEN SAC RUNNERS MAKE S. C. MEET --- BAKERSFIELD

By Ken Esse

Tonight six runners and one high jumper will be representing Santa Ana College at the Southern California Junior College Championships being held at Bakersfield. Field events will get underway at 6:30 p.m., running events; 7:30 p.m.

Out of the eight track men that SAC Coach John Ward sent to the preliminaries May 20, seven emerged as qualifiers with Santa Ana's "Iron Man" Pervis Atkins leading the way with his second in the hundred and fourth in the 220. Atkins ran his fastest time of the season with a 9.7 in the hundred and has been chosen by the coaches to give the favored San Diego trio, Cook, Lucas and Staten, hard time at the tape.

National Record

Last Monday, Staten, who runs every event from the hundred to the half mile, broke the 20 year old National Junior College quarter mile record in a fast 46.9 during his heat. Mt. SAC's Jerry White was right on his heels. The old record, set by Wilbur Miller of Compton College, was 47.1.

Another Don sprinter who placed a third in his heat to qualify was Bobby Gaiters with a 9.9 in the hundred. Coach Ward is still waiting for Bobby to come into his own, and tonight seems the likely time for it to happen.

Mile Relay

Santa Ana's mile relay team ran fourth to Mt. San Antonio, Glendale and San Diego City College with Mt. SAC breaking their own National Junior College record of 3:15 flat with a new time of 3:14.5. Helping to make the record possible were Martin, Larrieu, Stanley and White.

Running for the Dons Mile Relay Team are Don Guyer who ran a 50.7 quarter, John Hustwick with a 50.8, Paul Vandezant with a 51.7, and anchor man Ron DeVos with a 50.5 quarter to complete the relay team.

In the individual events, Jack Bose will try out his six-foot-two high jump best against the California JC's.

Event of the Day

Special event of the day will be the two mile run with Santa Ana's own distance ace Charley Clark, adding his leather lungs to the eight lap race. Mt. SAC's Ron Larrieu, who won the two mile last season, and now holds the standing national two-mile record with a 9:19 will be out to regain his title. Clark defeated Larrieu during the Eastern Conference run-offs by 50 yards. This will be the event to watch.

Another single eventer is Coach Ward's best half miler, John "Red" Hustwick who was the only 880 man in the Eastern Conference that made the finals. Hustwick's time was 1:57.4, while placing fourth in his heat.

Don Nine Looks To Next Season

By Dick Wyatt

Santa Ana's baseball squad will be looking to the future of a new coach and more in-coming material as they finish up the season by battling the Fullerton Hornets for the cellar position.

By knocking off the Hornets in their final game of the year, the Dons escaped the embarrassing last place slot. The Citrus Owls were crowned the 1957 Eastern Conference Champions with a league record of 11 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie.

Cross Country

This will conclude the Don track season until next Fall when the Distance men will begin to run the hills during cross-country season. Those returning next Fall for C. C. are Charly Clark, Gary Rees, Ken Esse, Bert Taylor, and up from the high school will be Earl Morley.

Plaza de Toros

Excitement and color filled the air as the pomp and ceremony of last Sunday's Corrida began the season with one of the better fights seen in the Tijuana bull ring.

El Don Editor and sportsman John Brady returned with many tales of the ring and of the spectators. Brady also told me that it was, and is, well worth the four dollars for a ticket on the sunny side with the cheese eaters and "boda" bag class.

Speaking from personal experience, after having seen bull fights in Mexico City and Monterey, I can assure you that they will provide you with all the entertainment you want, and one of the most beautiful spectacles you have seen.

During last Sunday's bull fight "El Cuallo" was gored. After being forcibly removed from the ring he broke away, returned to the ring and fought the bull in a beautifully precise fashion, receiving both ears, by ovation, for his bravery and a clean kill.

May 31, the only Saturday fight of the season, will feature Luis Procuna, who is rated as one of the top bull fighters in old Mexico.

Danny Prall

Ex-Santa Ana High School athlete, Danny Prall is now in Mexico studying the art of the corrida and right now we are trying to get a lead as to where he may be fighting. Prall fought his first bull last December for his first kill.

For further information on the bull fights contact myself or John Brady in B-3, El Don room.

were over the .300 mark. They were Ronnie May, .327; Al Hackney, .333; Loy Coon, .327; Harry Fulsom, .346 and Walter Cooks .500.

During the beginning of the season the Dons pitching staff consisted of just three hurlers in the persons of John Wilson, John Harris, and John Ausmus. By the time the conference games had started, Ausmus had sore arm, Harris was dropped from school, and Wilson was left with all the pitching chores.

By the time the pitching staff had shortened to one man, the shake-up in the coaching staff had taken place and Stan Hayden adopted the Don nine coaching duties. Hayden finished the season by making pitchers out of catcher Loy Coon, shortstop Larry Alves, who also saw action behind the plate and then Bob Rivas.

Santa Ana College students will display the college program in an exhibit located in the feature tent at the Orange County Fair. The ten day fair started its run this morning.

Electronics equipment, constructed by instructor George Farrier's classes, will be one of the featured items of the exhibit. A continuous color slide showing of campus buildings and activities will accompany the literature distributed by the students manning the booth.

These volunteers will answer questions pertaining to summer school and next semesters schedule as well as describing social activities to prospective students.

Since the fair schedule this year falls just prior to the exam period "Sky" Dunlap coordinator of the fair activities has asked all members of the service clubs and student body office holders to donate their services for a few hours in order that the load will not be too heavy on any one person.

Volunteers may sign the booth schedule in B-2 any time during the next ten days.

All volunteers will have plenty of time to see the fair, admission free, if they choose to do so, according to Dunlap.
